

mansulei was writing a somewhat all-encompassing overview on the friends research of the last 5 years and johos successful investments culminating in a millions strong decentrally connected global community of android symbionts and multilives human upgraded beings he did start with a philosophical introduction to whom it may concern

when i, mansulei of the friends research group, write this, it is my very own personal account of how i see look at the happenings of the five last years ascende and perma started to collect cell materials from animal and plant species with the overguiding motto or ethic preference, that what they were humbly asking for was skin cells from animals and plant material what was given in joy, not taken with intention, but given to them in a way of being blessed ... the cells being offerings toward the goal of humanity grow further into responsibility, sustainability towards stepping much lighter on planet earth permas meditation at the chameleon place ... when she moved from her nature hut in the nacary islands to the rasip appartement ... she did so to be near ascende, to create a stronger aura of two people instead of being alone... also the artificial environment of the rasip place may have helped them to concentrate onto their wish the cells they got donated with might grow together in an selfguided way somehow, without cutting dissolving remixing the cells in a traditional genetic manipulation fashion but to create an environment, although artificial with petri dishes and bioreactors ... still it was an environment what allowed permas skin cells to merge with the chameleon in love given cells... and she could then successfully integrate them into her working organism, with ascende following her path himself too succeeding to take up photosynthesis capability trough his skin cells having merged in the petridishes nurtured by microalgae from the bioreactors and psylocibin mushrooms as well as cannabis flowers grown inside the appartements aeroponics and fughi grow chambers they took this first huge step in a weeks time, what in itself is posing the question to me if possibly their enterprise was being helped by ancient or future human like pathways... were there already human beings having successfully achieved an upgrade of their bodies towards multispecies cells merging in symbiotic smooth and gentle growing into each other ? were they travelling the earth at that very moment when perma did her first bath with the merged cells... was this selfrealize being or multiple of them watching over the two friends all the time... possibly back from the future to direct their supportive thoughts and emotions ... and or was it the collective cloud of later android symbionts what went back in time to be there in the appartement... the cloud of experiences, real happenings of a being growing itself together from several types races species cells...

i do like to think of that being one possibility...

so i give thanks forward and backwards in time to all creation, to all individual beings who have helped this cause with their supporting conscious support how do two cell types grow into each other ? without being cut open or injected into each other, sequenced and sliced into fragments but simply given into the same petri dish with a tiny spoon added microalgae and psychoactive plant essences... was it the act itself of them gently being given into this round little bassin where they both could take their own time to get to know each other... these hours and days when ascende and perma looked into the petridishes hoping to witness with their naked eyes and the microscopic cameras.. a symbiosis of the two cell types... was their thoughts and emotions motivating the cells, and was a much stronger... cloud of it already happened for the good of the whole planet... in the rasip appartement flowing into the bioreactors funghi chambers aeroponics and petri dishes as well as into perma and ascende... eventually all of the three contributing forces were even deeper founded and helped by the planetary cloud of potential, maybe again gaia and the ascended beings, the angels and elemental godsimilar forces were rejoicing at this moment when the mergings happened...

maybe the authority is none of all that, maybe all the names and concepts of angels, god and godesse, ascended beings... are distracting me from what it is... it is the road to a fine exchange of information, instead of eating the apple the multilifes multispecies cellfused human beings and the symbiotic symbiotic ? androids golems partly artificial beings could be that very apple in their own now apple fruit flesh and skin and apple seeds... instead of building a shelter from earth against cold weather and strong winds... everyone of the friends researchers could now burn or consume tiny amounts of flower pollen what would get them through the night, or perhaps tiny bits of fruits ingested what helped them sustain their inner fire glow what the friends research group got donated some months into the prototyping phase when johanna already had asked me and mirael to translate the friends research material what was open source all along the way, translate this knowledge gathered in experiments towards android lifeforms whom human beings could ask to be their companions as written just some lines above, there were some months in between of perma's chameleon merge and mundu fireglow ability acquiring

i am drifting here extra towards the underlying core things... what is the core motivation of a being what has left its single speciesness behind to seek mergings symbiosis mutual sharing of genetic heritage with all possible reachable forms of life, forms and shapes of elemental compositions, looking to become one with the elements... to me it seems to be in great deep and high balances equilibrium with all relatives, to be in an agreement coming from sharing experiences understanding of each others uniqueness.... an agreement what would allow one to be exactly what one wishes to be in that moment on either body and or thinking and or feeling level of existence... this satisfaction to have reached home, to have arrived at being one with all, would result or lead to the state of abundance, an satisfaction what would not give way to a hunger or thirst but if one would follow to satisfy ones levels of existence with this amount of life joy ... in gentleness, in respectful humility...

could one day no tree need to grow apples anymore as there would be no one wishing to eat them, neither human nor bird ? could we live on a planet where the plants and evolved humans as well as multicellular animals would flower and not wither, but constantly sending each other pollen with our very own spores of life style
